I think this would make it easier on us consumers because it would allow us to keep the numbers that we have. We could save money by not having to remake business cards thereby saving natural resources. It would also allow us to save time by not always having to look/search for new numbers for old friends/clients.